In the past, Cancer Support Now has arranged for a local hotel to have a discount room rate for our out of town guests on the Friday before and the night of the conference. We regret that due to the Gathering of Nations Powwow that weekend, hotels do not offer discounts for that high demand weekend, some even charge more due to demand. If anyone is coming to our event from out of town, please book early so you won't be shut out of a place to stay. We apologize for not taking that into account.
